

Esempio di testo breve e ricco di contenuti.

Di Clare Henry (FB)

He was tall, handsome, charismatic.

He was wonderful. I miss him.

Above all I miss his voice, his way with words, their distinctive cadence, inflection emphasis and flow. He was always brief. Direct. To the point. His accent was neither American nor British and not French - though he was born there of French parents. He had the most beautiful hands and the most beautiful voice. Unique.

Countable = che si conta

Uncountable = che non si può contare

Con i sostantivi contabili si usa

articolo A/AN

Con i sostantivi che non si possono contare non si usa articolo.

es. Poesia

Poem countable

Poetry uncountable

Yesterday I wrote a poem.

I always write poetry.